Catholic Community Services of Southern Arizona

2014-2015 Annual Report

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ Jesus:

Every day in our name Catholic Community Services (CCS) is caring for the poor and those in need.

During our Holy Father's recent visit to the United States, we heard again and again from Pope Francis the responsibility we have as disciples of Christ to reach out to the littlest and weakest among us. The Holy Father's humble and incredible witness of living the corporal works of mercy inspired us all. He reached out to children with disabilities, he visited those in prison, he comforted those who had been abused, and he cared for those who mourned.

His striking example encourages and invites us all to carry on the corporal works of mercy.

This happens in a significant way through the work of Catholic Community Services. We can be rightly proud of what they do for others and the incredible good they accomplish.

This annual report describes the many ways people's lives have been touched by CCS and the mercy that they have received in the Lord's name.

What they do happens through your generosity and willingness to share some of the Lord's blessings with those who desperately need those blessings.

I am confident that this annual report of the work of CCS will give you assurance and confidence that God's work is alive and well in our community.

All of us are grateful to Mrs. Peg Harmon, Chief Executive Officer of CCS, and the Boards for their leadership in helping make this organization such a blessing among us.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Gerald Kicanas

Most Rev. Gerald F. Kicanas, D.D.

Bishop of Tucson

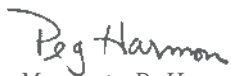

Dear Friends,

In Genesis 12:3, God made a promise to Abraham: "I will bless them that bless thee." This is a promise that we would gratefully claim for ourselves, invoking God's blessings on all those who have blessed us.

Each year, as we compile this annual report, we have the opportunity to reflect on our work over the past year. In the process, we see the many good things that have happened and how the hand of God has blessed our work. This has often happened through you and because of your faith, compassion, and generosity. We have only been able to do the work God has asked us to do through your support.

Thank you again for sharing your time, talent, and treasure. You are a blessing to us, and your support has helped us bless the lives of so many others.

May God shower you with blessings in return,

Marguerite D. Harmon, MS
CCS Chief Executive Officer

Our Vision

A compassionate and just community that upholds the God-given worth and dignity of every human being.

Our Mission

We strengthen children, adults, families and communities by providing help, creating hope and serving all.

Our Valued Actions

In order to accomplish our Mission, Catholic Community Services

- Responds to the call of the Gospel: "For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, a stranger and you welcomed me, naked and you clothed me, ill and you cared for me, in prison and you visited me." (Matthew 25:35-36)
- Respects life and protects children and vulnerable adults
- Collaborates and develops partnerships with others in the community to meet unmet needs
- Cultivates and implements new and creative responses to community, family, and individual needs
- Respects diversity in our community
- Encourages, supports, or restores self-reliance and self-determination through program design and delivery
- Encourages others to perform acts of charity
- Advocates for a just and compassionate society
- Recognizes and values the contributions of employees and volunteers through a positive work environment, equitable treatment and providing opportunities for growth and well-being
- Demands personal and professional integrity, honesty, and accountability from all employees, volunteers, and Board members as stated in the Code of Ethics.

Blessed

Blessed is a word found throughout Scripture—from Genesis, where God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, to St. Matthew, where Jesus pronounced the blessedness on those fit for his kingdom, to Revelation, where John declared that those who die in the Lord are blessed.

Blessed denotes an endowed state of happiness, holiness, relief, aid or protection, often God-given. For those who receive such an endowment, the word expresses the recognition of these gifts, received with thanks and praise.

At Catholic Community Services of Southern Arizona, we consider ourselves blessed. We are blessed by the many people and organizations in our community that support us in our work. This year, we received many blessings that helped CCS continue serving.

We are blessed by the amazing people who work at CCS and who day after day give their best to the people we serve. This year, we said goodbye to several wonderful people who have served long with us and inspired us. We also welcomed many others, who bring valued gifts to our work.

We are also blessed by the people we serve. They bless us by trusting us and allowing us to walk a difficult journey with them. They bless us by reminding us of the abundance in our lives that we often take for granted. They bless us with their examples of faith, courage, and gratitude.

A Year of Blessings

We are indeed blessed, which has enabled us to bless the lives of 59,149 people this year. We are thankful for so many blessings received and given this year.

- Pio Decimo's VITA program served 5,944 families this year, providing free tax preparation and helping families claim $10.5 million in refunds. The program exceeded last year's record for both the number of families served and the number of dollars refunded.
- CCS' child welfare programs expanded quite a bit this year, providing more support to parents in becoming better parents and reuniting families. At the same time, CCS continued to expand its adoption services and the number of children adopted.
- Four different Tucson family foundations came together to fund a new roof for Pio Decimo Center, ensuring that the center can go on serving the community for many years to come.
- Richard and Elisabeth Buchanan, who have worked with CCS for nearly 50 years in caring for newborns and infants awaiting adoption, were chosen as Catholic Charities USA's 2015 Volunteers of the Year.
- Catholic Social Service said a fond farewell to long-serving Ron Dankowski and Sr. Mary Ann Bogosoff, who both retired this year after over 40 and 37 years of service, respectively. The Pastoral Ministry also said goodbye to Fr. Angelo Mastria and Sr. Carolyn Nicolai, who both retired after over 20 years each working in the ministry.
- The Kolbe Society, which serves prison inmates and their families, welcomed Fr. Richard Landry, a missionary of Our Lady of LaSalette, to the ministry and set in place a structure to implement a restorative justice and re-entry program.
- CCS Foundation hosted "Family Matters," an event honoring the Jack and Jocelyn Cotter Family, the Tom and Karen Hall Family, and the Richard and Elisabeth Buchanan Family. The event netted over $111,000 for Catholic Community Services' programs for families.
- The Alitas program continued responding to the needs of migrants, providing them with food, clothing, supplies, and a place to rest before their further journeys. The program is now working with other organizations to support youth aging out of detention centers where migrant children are being housed.
- With a substantial gift from the May and Stanley Smith Charitable Trust, additional supports were implemented for Deaf, DeafBlind, and Hard of Hearing clients throughout Southwest Community Services' agencies.
- Catholic Community Services in Western Arizona launched "Enduring Forever," a program to help youth gain a healthy sense of self, protect their personal safety, and avoid abusive relationships.
- CCS received a grant from the Walmart Foundation to enlarge its food distribution program and encourage healthy eating among low-income families. CCS also received grant funds to help families enroll in SNAP, the federal government's food assistance program.
- Pio Decimo Center launched a new effort to help women achieve economic security through small, family-run businesses. The effort integrates the "Bridges Out of Poverty" poverty-reduction curriculum with Pio Decimo's asset development programs.

Pio Decimo Center

Pio Decimo Center, a community center in one of Tucson's oldest neighborhoods, provides childcare, youth development programs, transitional housing, senior housing, housing counseling, asset-building, financial education, and basic needs assistance.

Blessing Lives

- 348 children and youth, ages 3 to 18, participated in Pio Decimo's pre-school, after-school, and youth-at-risk programs.
- 125 children received 825 meals through Pio Decimo's Summer Meal Program.
- 34 families with 38 adults and 61 children lived in Pio Decimo's transitional housing and received case management to help them improve their finances, education, employment opportunities, and parenting.
- 776 people participated in tax education workshops through the Assets for Families program.
- 256 families participated in financial education classes. During the year, 12 families became first-time homebuyers through matched savings established in individual development accounts.
- 16 families are in the process of purchasing a home and 6 individuals are going back to school for post-secondary education with funds saved through the matched savings program.
- 159 families participated in classes to avoid foreclosure and repair distressed mortgages; 60 of these families were able to stay in their own homes.
- 129 families participated in homebuyer workshops. During the year, 11 families purchased their first home.
- 3,622 families in need received food and nutrition education and more than 28,000 clothing, household and hygiene items.
- Volunteers and staff prepared 5,944 tax returns for low-income families, resulting in nearly $10.5 million in tax refunds, including $5.6 million in earned income tax credits.
- 168 low- and middle-income seniors lived in a safe, comfortable, and affordable home through Pio Decimo's senior housing and enjoyed 105 social and educational opportunities provided by Pio Decimo Center.

“Sometimes you need to ask for help.”

Mariela and her husband were young and determined to make it on their own, but job losses, time off for school, and financial mistakes led to losing their car, then their apartment, and eventually returning to live in their parents' homes, which meant splitting up their family of four. Humbled by their circumstances, the young couple entered Pio Decimo's transitional housing program, where they benefitted from far more than they expected. In addition to the low rent, Pio Decimo provided food boxes, clothing, and day care and after-school programs for their two boys. These valuable supports were especially critical when the couple's third son was born with heart problems, enabling Mariela to stay with him in the hospital and learn to manage his care at home. Mariela also attended workshops to improve life skills, such as parenting and money management. Today, after a year in the program, Mariela and her husband are in a much better place. With her husband stably employed now, they have paid down their debts and are ready to move into the program's second phase, where they will work on their long-term goal to buy or build a home for their family. Mariela has learned a lot through the experience, particularly about getting help when you need it. "You can't be prideful. Sometimes you need to ask for help. We should have come to Pio Decimo Center long before."

Catholic Social Service

Catholic Social Service (CSS) serves Pima, Pinal, and Gila Counties. Programs across these counties vary to include counseling, adoption and foster care services, assistance to immigrants and refugees, group living for pregnant or parenting teens and their infants, family strengthening services, and services for seniors including meals and case management.

Blessing Lives

- 3,175 children with special needs were cared for by St. Nicholas of Myra Center, and 753 children were placed in loving adoptive homes.
- 26 families were served by the Infant Adoption program, with 6 infants placed in adoptive homes.
- 8 teen mothers, 9 babies (one set of twins!), and 4 pregnant teens lived at Merilac Lodge, where the mothers learned about parenting, communication, and self-development.
- 55 pregnant women and youth and their partners received pregnancy counseling and support.
- 85 licensed foster families in Pinal County cared for 176 foster children. 18 children were adopted into permanent, loving homes.
- 1,977 seniors in Pima and Pinal Counties enjoyed 189,488 home-delivered and congregate meals served by the Senior Nutrition Program.
- 54 families received supervised visitation during 1,003 visits between parents and their children living in out-of-home care; 8 of these families received parenting skills training during their visits.
- 854 immigrants from 11 countries received immigration/citizenship assistance.
- 282 refugees from 12 countries received resettlement and adjustment services.
- 270 immigrant survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault received immigration assistance.
- 436 individuals received 2,979 hours of individual, couples or family counseling and therapeutic supervised visits for families referred by Pima County Superior Court.
- 51 families became more economically stable through 1,483 hours of case management.

“She won’t let anyone steal her sunshine!”

Alicia, age 10, badly needed a forever family. She’d been in ten different foster homes over the last five years, and the stress and loss had manifested in troubling behaviors. Nonetheless, her case worker at St. Nicholas of Myra Center recognized Alicia’s strengths and emphasized them in her written profile. She was a bubbly, energetic child with an infectious enthusiasm for life. When Linda Saldate, a prospective adoptive parent, read Alicia’s profile, she saw a cute-as-can-be child, but also one that she could help. Linda had been a foster parent for several years and had strengths in the areas where Alicia needed the most help. It was the match she had been seeking for many years in her frustrating efforts to adopt. Things were arranged through St. Nicholas Center and in June 2014, Linda brought Alicia home for a six-month trial period. Her troubling behaviors surfaced after the “honeymoon” period, but that didn’t deter Linda. After three months, Linda knew she wanted to move ahead with the adoption. In March 2015, Alicia’s adoption was made final. She has a mom and an older sister now, and though things are challenging at times for the whole family, Linda feels blessed to have Alicia, now Lillian, as part of their family. “I love how happy she is after all she’s been through. I am amazed at her resilience. She’s not going to let anyone steal her sunshine.”

Catholic Community Services in Western Arizona

Catholic Community Services in Western Arizona (CCSWAZ) serves Yuma County with meals for seniors, counseling, domestic crisis services, and adult day health care for the elderly and disabled, as well as the Arizona Families FIRST program in Yuma and La Paz Counties.

Blessing Lives

- 44 seniors at Daybreak Adult Day Health Center received 26,232 hours of personal care, nursing, and activities. 32 of the center's seniors were able to maintain or increase their level of self-sufficiency.
- 385 frail or disabled individuals living in their own homes were supported with 48,321 home-delivered meals.
- 1,015 seniors or people with disabilities were served 18,346 meals at the Yuma North End Community Center.
- 146 parents in the Arizona Families FIRST Program and 65 other community members received over 7,400 hours of counseling and case management to support healing, increase coping skills, and provide a safe environment for personal growth.
- 261 adults and 298 child victims of domestic violence received more than 7,600 nights of emergency shelter at Safe House, along with counseling, case management, and legal assistance.

“Safe House is the best place for anyone who has been abused.”

Stella Hogan arrived at Safe House domestic violence shelter during the night. She had lived with abuse many times in her life, starting in her childhood. And now, at age 71, she was living with it again. Verbal and mental abuse, sexual harassment, and isolation had made her present living conditions unbearable, and she needed to get out. She got dressed, packed her bags, and headed for safety. At Safe House, Stella found a caring staff, who took her in with open arms and began helping her recover. Stella’s case manager knew of resources available to seniors and over the next four months got things arranged so Stella could be independent again. Today, Stella lives in her own apartment and nearly every weekday walks to the North End Community Center, where she spends several hours, talking with friends, taking part in activities, and enjoying two good meals through CCSWAZ’s Senior Nutrition program. Stella’s life has turned around and she has Safe House to thank. “Safe House is the best place for anyone who has been abused,” said Stella. “The staff are there to help you. I love them all.”

Southwest Community Services

Southwest Community Services (SCS) houses four organizations in Arizona and New Mexico that seek to maximize independence for people with hearing loss or developmental disabilities. Community Outreach Program for the Deaf in Tucson (COPD) and Albuquerque, NM (COPD-NM) and Valley Center for the Deaf (VCD) in Phoenix provide services for the Deaf and hard of hearing. The Community Living Program (CLP) in Tucson provides residential living supports to people with developmental disabilities.

Blessing Lives

- 2,634 Deaf and hard of hearing clients received 34,311 hours of interpreting.
- 39 youth received on-the-job experience through COPD's Summer Youth Employment Program. 37 successfully completed the program.
- 444 Deaf and hard of hearing individuals received vocational services, including on-the-job training, job supports/training, and job placement, resulting in 116 people finding jobs.
- 49 individuals with disabilities received 194,325 hours of residential support services, ranging from a few hours daily of in-home support to 24-hour a day comprehensive care in a licensed group home.
- 577 people received case management and life skills education, counseling, and support services from COPD, COPD-NM, and VCD.
- 107 DeafBlind people received 12,463 hours of support services from COPD, COPD-NM, and VCD trained service providers.
- 148 DeafBlind people received assessment, communication equipment, and training on individualized communication equipment.
- 60 adults and 32 youth received ASL domestic violence education.

“I knew COPD would help me find a job.”

Kris Jamison, 23, is riding high these days. He has a part-time job and a learner's permit to begin driving, two things he has wanted for a long time but had difficulty getting because of his hearing loss. After high school graduation, he stayed close to home, not working and not getting out to meet people, but after four years of that he wanted a change. “I wanted to socialize more, to learn new things, to get a feel for the workforce,” said Kris. His thoughts turned to COPD. “I knew COPD would help me find a job.” COPD was eager to help Kris, who was part of a large population of out-of-school youth with hearing loss that COPD and Vocational Rehabilitation wanted to target for job development. During high school, Kris had participated in COPD's Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP). He entered the program again and got a job at a local movie theater. COPD provided soft job skills training and worked with his employer to train Kris in the job and to make workplace accommodations for him. Kris also joined a vocational support group at COPD for out-of-school youth like himself, and COPD staff helped him prepare for and pass his driver's permit exam. Kris is happy with the turn of events in his life. “I have something to do and I get to meet people.” He hopes to go back to school soon, and when he does, he knows COPD will be there to help him on his way.

Catholic Community Services in Southeastern Arizona

Catholic Community Services in Southeastern Arizona (CCSSEAZ) serves residents in Cochise, Graham, Greenlee, and Santa Cruz Counties with domestic crisis services, foster care, adoptions, meals for seniors, and transportation, as well as foster care and parent aide services in Gila County.

Blessing Lives

- Students, commuters, the elderly and disabled, and other passengers received 50,803 rides on the Bisbee Bus.
- 95 foster families were supported by CCSSEAZ in caring for more than 225 foster children.
- 14 new foster homes were licensed.
- 50 adoptions were completed this year.
- 677 families received shelter, counseling, legal assistance, case management, and community referrals from the three domestic crisis shelters in Southeastern Arizona. An additional 127 people received legal aid and referrals without a shelter stay.
- 32,280 meals were delivered to homebound seniors, and 3,776 meals were provided for seniors at community meal sites.
- 70 families, which included 100 children, received supervised visitation between parents and their children living in out-of-home care.
- 33 families comprised of 57 adults and 72 children, received In-Home support services, which resulted in 18 families being reunited with their children.

“I absolutely feel better!”

Up until a year or so ago, Michael Jefferies wasn't eating that well. He had retired from the U.S. Army years before with significant disabilities, which made it difficult for him to get out to shop for food and prepare it at home. Consequently, the food he was eating wasn't good for him, which was impacting his health. To improve his nutrition, his case manager at the Area Agency on Aging signed him up to receive home-delivered meals through CCSSEAZ's Senior Nutrition Program. When the meals started coming, Michael wasn't sure it was going to work for him. “The food was different from what I was used to,” said Michael. But as he got used to it, he found himself enjoying the meals. “The spinach lasagna was my first experience with spinach, and I found that I liked it.” Now more than a year later, Michael is feeling much better. The five nutritious meals per week have made a real difference. “I absolutely feel better since I started. I'm in a better mood. I've lost weight, and I can get around a little more easily. It's helping to be healthier. I praise God for CCS.”

The Kolbe Society

The Kolbe Society, the new name of CCS's long-serving Detention Ministry, was established to make it possible for the men, women and youth who are incarcerated in prisons and jails located within the Diocese of Tucson to participate in the Sacraments. The Kolbe Society began as a prison ministry with three volunteers inside the Pima County Jail and has grown to almost 100 volunteers who are ministering in almost all of the jails, prisons and detention centers located within the Diocese of Tucson. This year, the Kolbe Society welcomed a new priest, Fr. Richard Landry, to develop and implement a Restorative Justice model of service that strives for restoration, renewal and reconciliation within the community.

The Kolbe Society depends on volunteers to carry out its work. In addition to the Prison Ministry, which provides sacramental services to inmates, a Family Ministry provides a shuttle service to help families visit their loved ones who are incarcerated in prisons outside the Tucson area. Further, a Re-entry Ministry provides support services to people who are released from prison or jail. In the near future, the Kolbe Society is also planning to start a Victims Ministry to address the needs of people affected by crime. If you would like to volunteer for any of these ministries, please call 520-670-0853.

The St. Jeanne Jugan Ministry with Elders

For nearly 30 years, CCS' pastoral ministry, now named the St. Jeanne Jugan Ministry with Elders, has provided Catholic services and communion for seniors in nursing homes and assisted-living communities throughout the Tucson area. Fr. Angelo Matria, O CARM, and Sister Carolyn Nicolai, FSP, have been the staff of this ministry for over two decades, visiting such facilities regularly to hold Mass and to comfort and console Catholic residents and others who request their presence. Both Fr. Angelo and Sr. Carolyn retired this year, and CCS thanks them for their long years of dedicated service.

Manny Guzman recently took the helm of the St. Jeanne Jugan Ministry with Elders and Father Ray Ratzemberger has been named the program's chaplain. This ministry is focused on developing and supporting parish-based ministries throughout the Diocese of Tucson to support the increasingly large numbers of Catholics moving into assisted-living communities. The ministry will help support pastors in recruiting and training volunteers and help facilitate parish services for elders.

The Alitas Program

Throughout the year, the Alitas Program continued serving weary Central American migrants after they were released from Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) with temporary legal status. Migrants were brought to the Alitas house, where they could rest, clean up, eat, find new clothing, review their travel itineraries, and get supplies for their journeys ahead. Last year, the Alitas program assisted 882 families of over 1,900 people, many of whom were unable to stay in ICE detention facilities because of extenuating circumstances such as advanced pregnancy or inadequate English or Spanish skills. The program has also agreed to accept unaccompanied minors who "age out" of youth detention facilities. Instead of being sent to an adult detention center, the youth can be brought to the Alitas house where they can stay for a few weeks while volunteers help them contact family members and make travel arrangements.

All of the migrants that have come through the Alitas program have been blessed by its hospitable and welcoming spirit. Kindness and the acknowledgment of their human dignity have strengthened them in a very difficult journey.
